Financial Services Compensation Scheme

The Primetime Retirement Fixed Term Drawdown Plan is protected by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS). The FSCS is the body that can pay your client compensation in the event of the failure of any of the associated financial services firms.

Pension funds transferred into our Deposit Funds are protected through the FSCS up to £85,000 per deposit taker*. This means that, currently, up to £170,000 of investment into a Primetime Retirement Fixed Term Drawdown Plan could be protected by the FSCS if a pension fund is split between both of our Deposit Fund partners.

Additionally, we have an Investment Fund option that could provide another £50,000 of FSCS protection*.

*It is important to note that any money the client already holds with any of our Deposit Fund and Investment Fund partners will affect the level of FSCS protection they may be entitled to. While the protection limits quoted represent our understanding of the current compensation scheme rules and limits, as at January 2017, you should check the FSCS website (www.fscs.org.uk) as scheme rules may change from time to time.
